

Jacqueline Gamblin
Chief Executive Officer
JYG Innovations
Dayton, Ohio

Cleveland Director

Jacqueline Gamblin is the founder and chief executive officer of JYG Innovations, a woman-owned company founded in 2009. JYG specializes in information technology solutions, cybersecurity, research analysis, and medical and clinical consulting services for both government and commercial clients.

Prior to her tenure with JYG Innovations, Ms. Gamblin served as chief technology officer at Ingenium Corporation. She also worked at Computer Associates (now known as CA Technologies) and Grumman Data Systems.

Ms. Gamblin serves on the boards of trustees at Central State University and the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce and on the board of directors for the French Oil Mill Machinery Company. She is a member of Armed Forces Communications & Electronics Association International and the Dayton Development Coalition. She previously served on the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland's Dayton Business Advisory Council.

Ms. Gamblin holds a BS in biology from Wright State University and an MS in administration from Central Michigan University.